

Table of Contents

Fighting for Respect	3
Problems of a New Nation	4-5
Trouble in the West	6-7
Calling for War	8-9
War Hawks in Washington	10-11
On to Canada!	12-13
Here We Go Again	14-15
No More Distractions	16-17
America Gets Tough	18-19
The Final Days of War	20-21
Good Times for the U.S.A.	22-23
Glossary	24
Index	25

Fighting for Respect

The Treaty of Paris ended the Revolutionary War in 1783. The United States had won its freedom from Great Britain. But America still did not have the respect of the world. Other countries took advantage of the new nation. In less than 30 years, America was at war with Great Britain again. The people called this their second war for independence.

▼ These are the first and last pages of the Treaty of Paris.

